Psalm 34:7

The angel of the LORD encampeth round them that fear Him, and delivereth them.

We again face the possibility of another hurricane in Florida. For those who have experienced a hurricane it can be frightening and fear-provoking. We turn on the news and get one prediction after another where the hurricane will land and how strong it will be. It seems even for Christians it is easy to buy into fear rather than faith. The Bible is filled with promises of God for His children, but if those promises are not real to you they will not produce the faith you may want in a difficult circumstance. God has given us His Word to guide us, lead us, and teach us all truth. God's Word is Spirit and life. If God has said that His angels are watching over His children than it is a fact. In this promise there is a stipulation for the believer. Do you fear God, that is, do you reverence God in your life each day? Is God first in your life, do your trust Him more than the doctor, lawyer, newscaster, or any other person's opinion. When we put our trust in man there will be times we will lose, and sometimes we may lose in a devastating way. If God's word says He will deliver you, can you believe that by faith? Can you believe that even if a category 5 hurricane should hit your area you will be saved from death and destruction? Is God bigger than your circumstance, or is your circumstance bigger than God? Every person should use wisdom and prepare for something as dangerous as a hurricane. But your trust, your confidence, and your peace should be in God who loves and cares for your well-being. Another faith filled promise is in Psalm 91:14-16 Because he hath set his love upon Me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he has known My name. He shall call upon Me, and I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honor him. With long life will I satisfy him, and show him
