Healing Scripture

*3 John 2
Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest

propsereth.*

Psalm 25:21

Let integrity and uprightness preserve me, for I wait on thee.

Today the idea of integrity, character, morals, kindness, goodness, consideration and many other godly traits seem to be far from the minds of many people. Some people have an attitude of you owe me because I showed up to work. Then people wonder why they go from job to job or are miserable in the job they have. Many do not receive the promotion or pay increase they think are due them because they serve themselves and not God. An upright person is one who seeks God, looks to Him as their source, and no matter what they put their hand to they do the best job they can. Those people are preserved when the storms of life blow through because they have integrity and uprightness before the Lord and man. Paul writes in Philippians 2:3 Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves. Whether we are at home, at work, school, or out and about in the world if we would make an effort to put others before our self we would be blessed. God is all about love and love cares about the husband, the boss, the coworker etc., more than self. As it has been said if you are all wrapped up in yourself you make a small package. We see it out in the world everyday where the emphasis is on me, myself, and I. God is looking for people who wait upon Him, when we do we can receive the wisdom of God and the knowledge of what to do each day. We might ask the question, is what I am doing today God ordained or self-ordained? We are so use to being independent that we find it very hard to humble our self under the mighty hand of God and submit to His will and authority. When we know God's will for our life and we know God through His word, integrity and uprightness will never be a problem they will be a byproduct of your relationship with God. Each Christian moves from glory to glory being molded into the image of Christ. Life always works out when God is our focus and we trust is in Him to deliver us, to protect us, to heal us, and to meet every need we have. Judy Onofri
