Ecclesiastes 2:10, 11

Whatever my eyes desired I did not keep from them. I did not withhold my heart from any pleasure. For my heart rejoiced in all my labor; And this was my reward from all my labor. Then I looked on all the works that my hands had done and on the labor in which I had toiled; and indeed all was vanity and grasping for the wind. There was no profit under the sun.

There are many things in this world that appeal to our flesh. Some people even have a “bucket list” of things they hope to do one day. Solomon who was the wisest man that ever lived on planet earth (excluding Jesus), had the ability and resources to do anything he wanted and that’s exactly what he did. Solomon built houses, planted vineyards, made gardens, and orchards, all kinds of fruit trees, water pools, acquired male and female servants, and had greater possessions of herds and flocks than all who were in Jerusalem before him. Solomon had it all and yet was not happy, he equated all the wealth and possessions of this earth as vanity and grasping for the wind. Vanity is the futile emptiness of trying to be happy apart from God. Isn’t that what we see today everywhere in the world? People trying to find happiness in their life based on who they are, what they are doing, or what they have. The result is unfulfilling and we don’t know why because our culture says it should make us happy. Recently two celebrities, one a famous chef, and another a fashion designer tragically committed suicide. These people appeared to have it all and yet it was not enough. Every human being was created by God, for God. It is our calling and purpose to find out what God’s will is for our life then strive to do it. Solomon did everything that pleased the flesh and found it was nothing. He understood this world is not worth living for if we don’t have God. The fallen nature of man looks for things fleshly and carnal to satisfy. But when salvation takes place we see God’s goodness and His grace, then we will praise Him for all He has done. With Christ in you this world becomes a different place and the joy of knowing God and His blessing makes life worth living. That joy is found only in the saving grace of God through His Son Jesus Christ. Judy Onofri
